This aerial photograph shows a construction site divided into three distinct plots, each outlined with a red border. The plots are labeled with red text: '靖工-2023-008号' on the left, '靖工-2023-007号' in the center, and '靖工-2023-006号' on the right. The terrain is uneven, with patches of dark, possibly excavated earth and areas of green vegetation. To the left of the plots, a white building with a grid-like facade is visible. To the right, a paved road with several parked cars runs parallel to the site. The overall scene suggests an active construction or land reclamation project.
